The Rundell Hall Conference Center (RH102) is a popular location for gatherings of around 100 people. The space can be set-up with round tables, chairs in rows, or with long tables and chairs in a classroom fashion. Each of those set-ups will allow a different number of seats for attendees. The Rundell Hall Conference Center is located in the primary administrative building for Lee College, Walter Rundell Hall. The building was built in 1950 and was completely remodeled in 2014. Since the remodel the Rundell Hall Conference Center has been a sought-after location for business meetings and trainings, as well as receptions of various types.

The Rundell Hall Conference Center is equipped with a computer, projector, and microphone.

Food is permitted in the conference center. Arrangements can be made through campus services for food and beverage needs, but outside catering is permitted, too. Custodial support charges will apply to any required cleaning beyond standard attention.
